

TENANTS GUIDE

Our tenants guide is designed to help clarify the whole moving process with us however the following should only act as a general guide and if you require any more specific information, do not hesitate to contact a member of our staff who will be happy to assist you.

FIRST MONTHS RENT AND DEPOSIT

The first months rent is payable in advance and must be in cleared funds on or before the proposed move in date. At Coady Phillips we take a deposit equal to five weeks rent on all property let through us. Your deposit will be protected under one of the tenants deposit protection schemes and interest is not payable on the deposit.

MOVING IN

On or before the proposed date for the tenancy to commence all tenants must have read and signed all the legal paperwork relating to the tenancy. We usually arrange for this to be done, along with the payment of rent and deposit, in either of our offices on the commencement date of the tenancy. Upon signing and paying the monies in cleared funds keys will be released to you and the check in can commence.

INVENTORIES

In almost every case a landlord will have either instructed an inventory clerk or at the very least provided an inventory which you will need to check through and sign upon entering the property. This will cover all parties against any problems that may arise upon your vacating the property and in the case of dispute the relevant tenant deposit protection scheme will be asked to arbitrate.

RENTAL PAYMENTS

Coady Phillips receives all rent payments via either standing order or bank transfer however the initial rent and deposit payment can be made by debit or credit card. Please note that a 3% charge is levied for the use of credit cards to cover our costs. Standing order mandates will be issued to you when you sign your agreement and please ensure that these are set up to withdraw funds from your account at least three days before the rent due date in order that they can be paid to the landlord on the rent due date.

TENANTS GUIDE

INSURANCE, CABLE, SATELLITE AND TELEVISION LICENSE

When you rent a property the landlord will have been advised to inform his insurance company that the property is tenanted and the buildings and contents cover will reflect this. However tenants should consider the need to insure their own contents as the landlord's insurers will not cover your personal items in the event of damage by fire, flood etc. If you require broadband, satellite or cable suppliers check first that the property you rent will allow it. Many blocks of flats do not permit satellite dishes and some have strict rules on the broadband supplier so make your enquiries before you begin the referencing process to be sure.

WINTER HEATING PRECAUTIONS

It sounds like common sense but please in the cold winter months or in brief freezing spells ensure you keep the property adequately heated even for a couple of hours just to avoid freezing pipes and flooding.

END OF TENANCY

Upon vacating it is best to check over the inventory supplied to you and ensure that the property is being left in the same good, clean and tidy order as when you moved in. Please do not ignore gardens and make good any holes from hanging pictures, mirrors etc. Your deposit will be returned if there is no dispute within a week of your vacating as long as a forwarding address is supplied and we can confirm all utility bills are paid and transferred into the landlord's name.
